

Gary's story

Gary has been separately sleeping downstairs for over three years and during this time his wife has 'sent him to Coventry'.

He discovered that his wife had taken out credit cards and loans in their joint names, totalling over £10,000 forcing him to take out a loan in his name to repay the debts.

His wife became physically abusive, hitting and slapping him and throwing and breaking his property. Eventually after seeking help from the police, he has left his property and the relationship.
