ManKind Initiative delighted to coordinate Train to Safety scheme run by Rail Delivery Group

<https://www.mankind.org.uk/for-professionals/train-to-safety/>

Since the start of lockdown, there has been a massive increase in demand for domestic abuse services across the country including a 35% increase in calls to our helpline and more than the double the number of visitors to our website.

We have held discussions with Rail Delivery Group in relation to helping male victims receive free travel to refuges and safe houses during lockdown. We are now pleased to be able to coordinate this for men accessing refuges and safe houses during the pandemic.

This brilliant scheme means that victims / survivors with a refuge space can travel for free across England, Scotland and Wales, with train companies and Network Rail, through the Rail Delivery Group covering the cost of travel.

Rail Delivery Group, said: “Together, rail companies are offering free travel for people fleeing domestic abuse during lockdown. This now includes referrals from the ManKind Initiative so that more men, women and children can travel by train to safety”

Mark Brooks, Chair of the ManKind Initiative, said: “We are delighted with this announcement from the Rail Delivery Group - it shows a real commitment from the railway industry to ensure all victims of domestic abuse can travel by train to safety.”

This scheme is similar to the Rail to Refuge scheme run by Women’s Aid.
